A brief study of some of the important cases dealt by Steps.....

The sufferings of Ms.Sharmila banu

Mrs Noojehan and her husband are residents of Thiruvopppur, Pudukkottai district. They have a daughter named Sharmila Banu. Mrs Noorjahan left her daughter Sharmila aged 19 yrs, for domestic work, at the house of Mr. Mohammed Ghani, who is an ex MLA. While leaving her daughter for domestic work, Noorjehan borrowed Rs.10,000 from Mrs & Mr. Ghani. She asked them to deduct Sharmila’s salary towards payment of the borrowed amount.

Sharmila was not paid any salary but was taxed with physical work and mental torture. Mrs Ghani credited Rs 1000 only as salary, at the end of thirteen months of hard work by Sharmila and deducted the same from the loan amount due to her by Sharmila's parents. Mrs Ghani threatened Sharmila and her parents to return the loan amount immediately, else she would complain to the police stating that Sharmila had stolen some jewellery from their house.

Sharmila's parents fearing the ex MLA and his wife, brought Sharmila to Steps asking for help. They wanted Sharmila to stay at the short stay home. Mrs & Mr.Ghani threatened Sharmila's parents many times. They also spoke to the Director of Steps and asked her not to allow Sharmila stay in the short stay home run by Steps. After the enquiry by the police and intervention of Steps the case has been amicably settled. Sharmila who was at the short stay home for over a month is back to her parents. She is now continuing her higher studies.

The case of Ms.Forshia

Forshia hails from Muncipal colony, Thanjavur district. She was married to Charles, a teacher at the government school, for two years. Both of them were staying along with Charles' brother and his wife.

Forshia complained that her husband was having illegal relationship with his brother's wife (his sister-in-law). Because of this she has been under great mental pressure. She complained that her sister in law was not allowing her and husband to live together peacefully. On some pretext or the other her co- sister would send Forshia away to her mothers house. Even after continued and repeated requests by Forsha to her husband he never heeded to her.

Then she approached Steps to find a solution to her problem. She wanted to live with her husband peacefully. Forshia's husband Charles was called and counseling was given to both of them. Steps took the initiative of setting up a new house for the couple and made arrangements for them to live separately. Forshia's husband assured Steps that he would take care of his wife and would keep her happy. The case was thus solved amicably due to the intervention of Steps.

She discussed with the community about their socio-economic status, impact of Tsunami and the level of support and solidarity provided to the community. The Muslim women expressed the negligence of the government, NGOs in providing relief and rehabilitation for the Muslim community. Identification of dalit community, Christian minority by the religious people were not given to the Muslim community. The Muslim community is totally neglected by the relief and rehabilitation mechanism. The Muslim women are in a very pathetic situation that they do not have a space for defecation. They were using open places covered by pushes and thorns. After Tsunami, the area used was totally washed away by the waves and now Muslim women in Threshpuram do not have any closed enclave for at least to defecate. Hence the women defecate at home and take throw the stools in the sea. It is a very worst state of living of the Muslim women in Threshpuram. This basic need of the Muslim women was not understood and recognized by the male members and religious clerics. The community pleaded with the STEPS team to do some thing for the Muslim women. It was a open fight between the Muslim women Jamaat members and the men Jamaat at Thuthukudi. They have circulated notice against the women Jamaat and tried their level best to stop the muslim women from sitting at the road side to express their grievance. But with lot of difficulty, the STEPS team and Tamil Nadu Muslim Women Jamaat members successfully conducted the hunger strike. 500 Muslim women from entire Tamil Nadu participated in the hunger strike. The support from the police department is enormous. They provided a battalion of women police for protection to STEPS team and the Muslim women. As a result of the one day fasting of Muslim women, 50 Muslim women families were removed from the enrolment of the men Jamaat and the associated mosque. All the 50 Muslim women went to police station and made the explained the purpose of the fasting of Muslim women and their demands from the government and the religious authorities. With Media

Media – both press and satellite channels cover the activities of STEPS. STEPS is maintaining a very good rapport with reporters at the state level and national level. The issues of Muslim Women, construction of Mosque for Jamaat were highlighted in leading Tamil Magazines in a most positive way, which has paved way for international coverage of the issues. Activities of STEPS were highlighted in the following magazines and Newspaper;

- News Internationalist Magazine
- Outlook
- The Week
- Savvy
- Communalism Combat
- The Telegraph
- The Hindu

Around 20,000 Websites around the world were found to be describing the activities and initiatives of STEPS.

- During the reporting period, India Today, a leading fortnightly magazine conducted a survey on women, sex and premarital sex. Statistics showed that 60% of women were indulging in pre marital sex. Ms.Khusboo, an artist from Tamil nadu was asked by the magazine to comment on this. She commented that the issue depended wholly on the woman but asked women to practice safe sex. This comment of hers, brought criticisms from the politicians and media saying that it hurt the sentiments of Tamil nadu women. The issue had been badly politicized. The director was one of the first few, to support Ms.Khusboo stating that it was her right of speech while members from her own fraternity kept silent. STEPS took initiative to conduct a campaign in support of her. A campaign was conducted on 28th November at Chennai in support of Khusboo to condemn the political parties who were trying to gain by politicizing the whole issue

- Sania Mirza, The sporting icon has been making India proud by establishing a significant place in the world Tennis ranking. The Muslim clergy from India are making a hue and cry about the attire she wears during the matches. Being a Muslim girl, they said that she was going against the dress code for Muslim women. Steps spoke to a Tamil magazine "Dina Malar" on this issue. Steps felt that Indian Muslim heads, should be more concerned about the game and encourage Sania to bring more laurels to the country rather than blame her for her skirts.
